DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. The indicated allowability of claim 2 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to Whiteside et al. [US 6,844,845]. Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Whiteside et al. [US 6,844,845] in view of Kim [US 6,036,287].

Regarding claims 1 and 3, Whiteside et al. disclose a casing body (10, figure 2) having a main body (176, figures 2-3) and a front surface panel (36, figures 2-3) having a step therebetween (a step down as shown in the figures 2-3), the casing body further having a sharp edge formed at a corner by the step (see the step between the body 36 and region 176, as shown in the figure 3), the casing body further having a small boss (178, figures 2-3) positioned near the step such that a user's hand or finger can contact both the sharp edge and the small boss at the same time, wherein the small boss is provided at a position that allows a force from a contact of the user's hand or finger at the sharp edge at the edge and the small boss.

Whiteside et al. disclose the instant claimed invention except for the small boss being formed of a corner position of the casing body.

Kim discloses a portable electronic device (100, figures 1 and 3) including at least one small boss (a small boss above a support element 102 at a corner of the portable electronic device as shown in the figure 3) at the corner or the casing of the portable electronic device.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the mounting position design of Kim in Whiteside et al., for the purpose of providing rigidity each corner of the portable electronic device.

Regarding claim 2, Whiteside et al., as modified, further disclose wherein the casing being used for an audio device (figure 13, column 9, line 59-column 10, line 4).

Regarding claim 4, Whiteside et al., as modified, disclose the small boss having a substantially semi-spherical shape (see figure 14).

Regarding claim 6, Whiteside et al., as modified, appears to disclose the boss being located approximately 0.1 millimeters or less from the edge (see figure 1c).

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-5 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
